EUFAMI receives UPA Recognition Award

We are very proud to announce that EUFAMI received the UPA (United to help) recognition award that honours people and organisations who play a leading role in the fighting against mental ill health stigma and discrimination. Vice President Martine Frager-Berlet accepted the award on behalf of EUFAMI from Filipa Palha on November 26th during ENCONTRAR+SE's 10th Anniversary celebratory charity dinner.

Endorse our Joint Statement on Mental Health at EU Health Policy Platform

EUFAMI, together with Mental Health Europe, developed a joint statement on mental health which our Secretary General presented to the EU Health Policy Forum on Monday Dec 5th. The paper highlights the need for parity of esteem and a lifecourse perspective on mental health, as well as the importance of attention for mental health at work and in primary care. We invite you to comment on and endorse this paper, addressed to health policy stakeholders and the EC.

FROM THE EU

Annual Growth Survey 2017

Driven by population ageing and technological developments, long-term care is expected to increase significantly in the coming decades. That's why the European Commission called for fully-fledged and accessible health and long-term investments in care services by member states as a part of the Annual Growth Survey \(AGS\) 2017.

"Health at a Glance: Europe 2016"

A OECD, the EC and the WHO Health Observatory report, Health at a Glance: Europe 2016, presents recent trends on health and health systems across the 28 Member States. It reveals that Europeans live longer, not always in a good health. The economic crisis led to large cuts in prevention budgets and the report argues that prevention, and more effective, accessible, and resilient healthcare could save lives and billions of euros. The next step is the production of a country health profile for each Member State. EUFAMI welcomes the report and recommendation to invest in prevention but hopes that more attention will be paid to mental health in the country profiles.

2017 EU budget

On November 17th, the EU institutions reached an agreement on the 2017 EU budget with a focus on making Europe more competitive and more secure. It increases investment in growth, jobs, and competitiveness and sets aside more budget to address the root causes of migration, reception, and integration of refugees. Health is not amongst the priorities but the development of a European Pillar of Social Rights and work in the areas of refugees and employment offer opportunities for advocacy.
